Winner of the 2016 Tony Award for Best Play

The Humans by Stephen Karam

A Revised Edition with Foreword by Samuel G. Freedman

NEW YORK, NY – Theatre Communications Group (TCG) is pleased to announce the publication of a revised edition of Stephen Karam’s The Humans, with an updated text and a new foreword by Samuel G. Freedman. The play premiered in November 2014 at the American Theater Company in Chicago, and premiered Off Broadway at the Roundabout Theatre Company in October 2015. It transferred to Broadway in the winter of 2016 to massive critical acclaim. The Humans earned six nominations for the 70th Annual Tony Awards in 2016 and won four, including Best Play.

“The best play of the year. The most, well, human play I’ve ever seen. You may find yourself gasping and yelping and, if you’re the type, crying. Rackingly funny even as it pummels the heart and scares the bejesus out of you, The Humans is a miracle. This is why we go to the theatre.”

– Jesse Green, New York

Breaking with tradition, Erik Blake has brought his Pennsylvania family to celebrate Thanksgiving at his daughter’s apartment in lower Manhattan. Unfolding over a single scene, this “delirious tragicomedy” (Chicago Sun-Times) by acclaimed young playwright Stephen Karam “infuses the traditional kitchen-sink family drama with qualities of horror in his portentous and penetrating work of psychological unease” (Variety).

“The Humans is a major discovery, a play as empathetic as it is clear-minded, as entertaining as it is honest. For all the darkness at its core—a darkness made literal in its ghostly conclusion—a bright light shines forth from it, the blazing luminescence of collective artistic achievement.”

Stephen Karam’s plays include Speech & Debate and Sons of the Prophet, a finalist for the 2012 Pulitzer Prize, and the winner of the 2012 Drama Critics Circle, Outer Critics Circle, Lucille Lortel and Hull-Warriner awards for Best Play. Born and raised in Scranton, PA, Karam lives in New York City.
