“Seven enormously talented playwrights.”
–Tony Kushner

The First Anthology of Middle Eastern-American Drama Published by TCG Books

NEW YORK — Theatre Communications Group (TCG) is pleased to announce the publication of Salaam.Peace: An Anthology of Middle Eastern-American Drama, edited by Holly Hill and Dina Amin. This collection is the first of its kind, featuring new plays by American writers from a variety of Middle Eastern backgrounds, from artists born in Egypt and Iran, to Israeli- and Palestinian-Americans. These are artists exploring the complexities of Middle Eastern identity in America, while also dealing with the ravages of war and violence in their families' homelands. The plays are both personal and political, and range in theatrical styles from lyrical drama to satirical comedy.

“These plays are tough, transgressive, complex and, above all, infuse contemporary theatre with new life and spirit.” –Naomi Wallace

The plays included are: Ten Acrobats in an Amazing Leap of Faith by Yussef El Guindi, Between Our Lips by Nathalie Handal, 9 Parts of Desire by Heather Raffo, Desert Sunrise by Misha Shulman, Browntown by Sam Younis, The Black Eyed by Betty Shamieh and Call Me Mehdi by Torange Yeghiazarian.

The volume also includes Dina Amin's preface "What's in a Hyphen?", and Holly Hill's introduction, which discusses theatre companies pioneering Middle Eastern-American work, introduces the seven playwrights, and places their work within a historical and political context. Each of the playwrights has also written an author's statement to precede his or her play.

“An anthology that crosses, and thus negates, borders.” –Hamid Dabashi

In response to the collection, Tony Kushner notes that the playwrights “share a tough-minded refusal of both silence and self-pity, and an insistence on the necessity of incarnating political, historical and theological complexities in human beings and bodies, in tales of love, desire and family that shock us with their familiarity while teaching us new things. Read these plays!”

Holly Hill was New York Theatre Correspondent for the Times of London from 1983-1995, and is Professor Emerita of Speech and Theatre at John Jay College of City University of New York. Dina Amin directs plays in the U.S. and Egypt, in both Arabic and English. She is published in major academic journals and has translated a number of Arabic plays into English.
